

Quality Event Flooring Systems Welcomes Neel Vasavada

And continues our commitment to business expansion

October 6, 2017

Quality Event Flooring Systems, a nationwide, full-service provider of flooring rentals and sales for the event marketing industry announces the addition of Neel Vasavada in the role of Sales/Operations manager. This role expands Quality Event Flooring's ongoing commitment to expanding our industry footprint and providing the best products and services available.

Neel Vasavada brings robust industry experience to the role, having spent the past five years growing the event flooring business. In the roles of Managing Director and Business Development, he's overseen development of logistics, service, operations and financial management. Vasavada has a proven track record of leadership, effectively managing projects at the largest festivals and stadium concert tours in North America.

Quality Event Flooring Systems continues to expand our industry reach in conjunction with our parent company Quality Mat Company, the largest supplier of industrial wood matting products in the world. Vasavada's expertise will help continue its growth in composite solutions and new markets.

About Quality Event Flooring Systems

For over 40 years, Quality Mat Company has provided its ground protection mats for a number of industries including oil & gas, petrochemical, pipeline, wind, highline utility and construction. Whether you need crane mats for a large project, rig mats for your oilfield operation, or custom mats for a specific need, Quality Mat Company is here to help. And, we provide full-service from manufacturing, shipping and logistics to delivery, and installation for clients large and small, all around the world.

Contact

For more information, call Quality Event Flooring Systems at 1-800-227-8159.